NOTE: * Announcements for Supervising Engineer titles requiring only one test component may be announced and tested at any time using the Supervisory Test Battery (STB) exam.
The Technical Exam date for two-part Supervising Engineer announcements will depend on whether the same unit scopes are announced for other titles to be tested in January or May. Those which do NOT have other announcements for the same unit scope will have the technical test given in March or September. Candidates will be informed of the Technical Exam test month when they appear to take the Supervisory Test Battery exam.
Candidates for Project Engineer announcements will be given two tests on the same day. The first will assess general knowledge in the area of supervision. The second will assess the technical aspects of the job.
